Is YOUR Subscription to The Times Paid?

Consult your address label on this paper—compare with calendar and if in arrears kindly remit. Addresses written in pencil generally infer paid up subscriptions not yet changed on printed mailing list. Immediately following this reminder to delinquent subscribers will be found each week a list of those paying subscriptions during the current week.

SUBSCRIBERS PAYING FOR THE TIMES DURING THE WEEK

Following are the names of those paying subscriptions to The Times during the past week:

Mrs. A. Johnson, Lashburn, Sask.; J. H. Price, Macleod; G. C. Ives, Macleod; W. H. Atkins, Salmon Arm, B.C.; T. W. Shield, Macleod.

TO SUBSCRIBERS WHO ARE IN ARREARS TO THE TIMES

FRIEND SUBSCRIBER—

We wish to make to you a few statements of unadorned facts:

Paper on which to print this newspaper costs us $1200.00 per year—which is obviously some item of expense—especially when it is taken into consideration that this same print paper three years ago would not have cost more than $400.00 per year—these be strenuous times in which to publish a newspaper as all other expenses in connection with publication are increased in about the same ratio as the cost of the paper.

On The Times subscription list there are $1,800.00 in unpaid subscriptions.

We suggest to you that with print paper alone costing us $1200.00 per year it is a hard proposition to get out The Times, keep it up to a fair standard and carry credits to subscribers to the amount of $1,800.00.

Your proportion of this indebtedness is a small matter to you likely—the aggregate of $1,800.00 is a fairly large and uncomfortable matter to us.

Again we suggest—that each subscriber to The Times who is in arrears comes forward promptly NOW and pays up such arrears and thus co-operates with us in giving Macleod one of the best country weeklies in Alberta.

“COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE”

Next Hockey Club Dance, Wednesday, March 9th in Town Hall.

For the Hospital Aid—Card Party and Dance, April 5th. 52-1t

Christ Church W. A. will hold a sale of work and home cooking in the Parish Hall on Saturday, April 2nd. Keep this in mind. 52-1t

The Salvation Army Concert will be held in the Town Hall on March 8th. Admission: Adults 50c, children 25c. All children under 8 years admission free. We have a good program. Coffee and cake will be served.

KICK THROUGH

We notice in the report of the Macleod Hockey Club that the organization has a large deficit on account of running the rink and paying expenses of the hockey boys this season. We consider that the hockey boys should be well supported by the townspeople in their dances, etc., and given every support to assist them in getting out of debt. They were very enterprising in taking over the rink and if they had not done so there would not have been any skating for the townspeople this winter. And they also put up a good brand of hockey.

The most practical way in which people can show their appreciation of the efforts of the Hockey Club to foster clean sport here and to provide the children and others with safe and comfortable skating facilities is to attend the dances held under the auspices of the Hockey Club. These dances are held in the Town Hall and

MACLEOD AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY IN SESSION LAST SATURDAY

A meeting of the directors was held in the Town Hall on February 26, 1921. Mr. Hammersley, 1st vice-president, presided. Present: Messrs. Fawcett, Alcock, Brown, Bell, Canning, Horner, McLean, Paisley, Shield and G. L. Pollard.

The secretary read minutes of the last meeting held on February 5th. Brown-McLean—That minutes be adopted as read.—Carried.

The reports of the Prize Committees were then taken.

Horses—The Committee reported no change in the list of last year.

Cattle, Sheep and Swine—The Committee reported several changes in a number of sections in the cattle and swine. Alcock-Bell—That committee report be adopted.—Carried.

Poultry—The committee handed in written reports with considerable changes in the list. After discussing the changes, the report was adopted after making a few alterations.

The reports on the Domestic Work, Ladies' Work and School Work were all adopted.

The report of the Sports Committee was remitted back to the committee with instructions to cut down the purses.

The secretary submitted the letter which had been sent out soliciting subscriptions for the purpose of clearing off the old debt. He intimated that he had already received three subscriptions of $50.00 each.

The secretary then read his report as Delegate to the Fairs Convention, a copy of which is filed.

Brown-Horner—That the report be adopted and the thanks of the Society be tendered to Mr. Gardiner for the report.—Carried.

Fawcett-Canning—That the meeting adjourn.—Carried.

R. J. E. Gardiner, Secretary.

Report of Delegate to Fairs Convention, Calgary, Feb. 16 and 17, 1921

To the Directors and Members of Macleod Agricultural Society.

Gentlemen:—

As your representative to the Fairs Convention held in Calgary on February 16th and 17th, I attended all the sessions on both days. The number of delegates present was very much larger than at any previous convention, which shows a greater interest on the part of the societies in the work of the Fairs Association, a work that is without doubt a great stimulus to the various societies which they represent. I am sure that every delegate who attended this convention will go home with a strong determination to make their fair for 1921 better than any former fair. The exchange of views in private conversation with other delegates is of great benefit, apart from the addresses and discussions in the convention. You find out the other fellow's ideas, you hear of their successes or failures, and that is an education of itself.

Mr. J. F. Day, Red Deer, president, presided at all the meetings, and Mr. E. J. Fream, Calgary, acted as secretary.

The first order of business was the minutes of last convention, and the financial reports. The reports were adopted. The financial report showed an adverse balance, on account of the extra cost of printing, and almost every expenditure in carrying on the work of the association. A resolution was passed increasing the subscription to the association as follows: for 1 and 2 day fairs, $10.00; 3 day fairs $15.00; Calgary and Edmonton Exhibitions, $25.00.

Mr. Galbraith, Supt. of Fairs and Institutes, was the first speaker. He gave a very full and comprehensive review of the fairs held in 1920. He stated that there were over 120 societies in the province, that 104 held fairs in 1920. He classified them as follows: three very poor fairs; 27 poor fairs; 22 medium fairs; and 52 good fairs. I am pleased to say that Macleod was placed among the good fairs last year. In 1919 it was only medium, so we are improving. I saw the government judge's report on our fair for 1920, and they certainly gave Macleod excellent reports on our horses and cattle exhibits. Mr. Galbraith said there were too many fairs in the province, quite a number that are of no value or benefit to their districts and that the department intend taking away the charter from all fairs that are not fulfilling the requirement of the Ordinance. He scored very strongly the farmer in any district where a fair is held, who take no interest or do not support the fair. He said every farmer ought to do everything notice of them is duly given, and those who attend may be assured of a good time in addition to the satisfaction to be derived from rendering practical support to a deserving organization.

The town council has not been behind in appreciating the efforts of the Hockey Club, and has been most generous in the adjustment of light and water rates, etc.

It is to be hoped that the rest of the townspeople will follow the lead of the council and accord the club their support in the manner above indicated.

APOLOGIZED FOR LETTERS AGAINST BASSOFF HANGING

C. C. Stuart, who brought himself into notoriety through letters in the press under his signature, condemning the process of justice by which Tom Bassoff was hanged, appeared before Mr. Justice Hyndman at Calgary on Tuesday, on the charge of contempt of court. The letters which appeared in the Calgary Herald, and also one in the Lethbridge Herald, contained a declaration of the innocence of Bassoff, with a virulent attack on court and jury. His Lordship, after delivering Stuart a severe lecture, ordered that he should be found guilty of contempt of court, but signified that sentence would not be passed on him if he would write a letter of apology which could be published as the court deemed advisable. He was also ordered to pay the costs of the crown and enter into a recognition bond in the sum of $1000 as guaranty of his good behavior for the space of a year.

The letter of apology was published in the Calgary Herald of the same day. In this Stuart said that in writing the letter to the paper he had no intention that it should be published. He acknowledged that the statement he made, that one of the jurors said that the jury was not convinced of Bassoff's guilt, was not correct. His excuse for writing the letter was that he had strong feelings on capital punishment and that probably this had influenced him. He apologized and undertook not to be guilty of any further contempt of court.—Lethbridge Herald.

in their power to make their local fair a success, but he found the trouble was, that too many never thought of making the fair a success, but only of how much they could make out of it in dollars and cents. They never thought of the educational value of their exhibits to their neighbors, or that the grants given by the Department was for educational purposes in advancing the cause of Agriculture throughout the province. He also said that the cause of failure with many societies was the lack of interest on the part of the directors. He emphasized very strongly, that no member should accept the office of director unless he was prepared to attend every meeting and do his utmost to further the interest and success of the society. There are too many directors who allow the other fellow to do the work, they stay at home all the year and on fair days they sit quietly and look on. One of the main duties he said, of a director, was to get around and make a thorough canvas of his neighbors, early in the season to seek out exhibits for the fair. This point was clearly brought by some of the delegates telling that their large entries of live stock, was the result of canvassing by the directors. Mr. Galbraith advised that all directors should read the 13 papers on how to conduct fairs, which were read by secretaries at the last two conventions. They are to be found in the annual reports. He spoke of fakers, at some of the fairs, and said they ought not to be allowed on the grounds. The way some exhibitors showed their animals in the Show Ring was severely criticised. He said it was no place for broncho-busting and steer roping. All animals should be properly broken and fitted before-hand, and led before the judges in such a manner, so that he could make a full examination and comparison of their various points. He advocated the offering of generous prizes to the boys and girls, stating that it was one of the best investments any society could make.

Mrs. Ellis, who is reporter at many of the northern fairs, for the Edmonton Bulletin, gave a short account of her experiences at some of the fairs. She advocated women and young men on the board of directors. Get in the young men and big boys with some pep in them she said, and your fairs will be a success, also that directors did not start the work of getting ready soon enough in the season. She also suggested a get-together meeting during the year, of directors and members, with their wives and sweethearts.

Very interesting and instructive addresses were given during the convention by Mr. H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Professor Cutler Dept. of Field Husbandry, University of Edmonton; Dean E. A. Howe, also of the University; Prof. Geo. H. Hutton, Supt. of Agriculture and Animal Industry C.P.R.; Mr. J. D. Smith, Supt. Seed Branch; and Mr. Stewart, Chairman Seed Board.

At the evening meeting held in connection with the Dairymen's Association, His Honor Mayor Adams gave an address of welcome to the delegates. Dr. Robert Magill, secretary Winnipeg Grain Exchange, spoke on "What happened to the Grain Market in 1920."

The Hon. Duncan Marshall addressed this meeting on general subjects applicable to both conventions. The principal topics he spoke on were: Farmers providing only the highest quality of cream, as it always brought the best price, and produced No. 1 butter. The premium on first class bacon hogs. The British market is

FORTY KILLED WHEN EXPRESS TRAINS CRASH

PORTER, Ind., Feb. 28.—Several Canadian were among the victims of the wreck of the New York Central and Michigan Central passenger trains which occurred last night, killing from 35 to 40 people. Canadians identified up to 8 o'clock this morning were:

J. Collins and wife, London, Ont. Gordon Campbell, Revelstoke, B. C. Peter Kan, Regina, Sask.

Relief crews early today had taken 33 bodies and scores of injured from the wreckage, and at least six bodies were visible, entangled in the debris. The trains crashed at the Diamond crossing here. The forward coaches of the New York Central train, which was westbound, lay upon the two splintered coaches of the Michigan Central train through which it had plowed while travelling nearly fifty miles an hour. The darkness and the tangled mass of wreckage made rescue work slow.

Had Clear Signal

A statement by Townerman J. G. Cook, on duty at the crossing declared the block two miles away was set against the Michigan Central train while the track was left clear for the New York Central. Railroad officials at the scene of the wreck said Engineer W. F. Long of Jackson, Michigan who escaped unhurt, declared he had received a clear signal and had checked it with his fireman. He left early today for his home.

Derailed, Then Cut in Two

When the Michigan Central train struck the derail, six hundred feet from the crossing, it was the first indication he had of the impending crash, Long is said to have stated. From that point the eight coaches of the Michigan Central train bumped along the ties, coming to a standstill with the third and fourth coaches at the intersection of the tracks, and an instant later the New York Central train burst through. All except the baggage and mail cars of the New York Central train remained upright, although bits of the wooden coaches of the Michigan Central train were scattered for fifty yards. Passengers in the four coaches of the Michigan Central train behind the death cars were unhurt except for the shakeup and all the passengers on the New York Central escaped, climbing down from their cars through the wreckage. For no reason that railroad officials could assign, almost all of the dead taken to the little morgue at Chester, across the tracks from Porter, received their fatal wounds in the head. Some were decapitated, accounting for the failure to identify nine of the 25 which had been taken there up to six o'clock. The first group of those seriously injured were rushed in an ambulance to Michigan City, Ind., and two of them died on the way. Hospitals and private houses at Michigan City and Gary received the injured.

Preliminary investigation and the handling of the identifications at the Chester morgue were taken over early today by Coroner Seipel of Valparaiso, Ind., assisted by officials of the Michigan Central.—Lethbridge Herald.

the best and only market for Canadian Produce. The removal of the Embargo. The shortage of beef in Britain. That live stock will be the best business in Canada for the next ten years. That small farms where a man could work it himself with his family will be the most profitable and will solve many of the difficulties of today, even soil drifting. He spoke very fully on the work of the fairs in the province, and impressed on his hearer the fact, that the grants paid by the department were for the purpose of education, that the Province of Alberta paid in grants double the amounts paid by the provinces of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. That there are more boys and girls in the Agricultural Schools of Alberta this year, than any other province in Canada.

The arranging of the fairs dates was taken up on the afternoon of the second day. Macleod secured the same dates as last year, August 3rd and 4th. It was reported that over 20 societies had not taken the trouble to send in their cards asking for dates or send a delegate to the convention. These societies got no dates, they were left in the hands of Mr. Galbraith to arrange dates if he found they were worthy of a fair.

The election of officers resulted in Mr. Day being re-elected president. Mr. R. Cates, Oyen, vice-president and as directors: Mrs. Armour, Chauvin; W. Robertson, Stonyplain; J. J. Bell, Isley; Geo. Day, Stettler, for the north; and E. L. Richardson, Calgary; H. Mackintosh, Macleod; John Wilson, Innisfail; Mr. Nester, Berry Creek for the south. Mr. Day, Stettler and Mr. Nester, Berry Creek, being new members.

Several votes of thanks closed the best convention held since the formation of the Association.

The Calgary Fair Board entertained the delegates to a theatre party on the evening of the 17th at the Grand Theatre.

Respectfully submitted.
R. J. E. GARDINER,
Delegate.

NEW AMENDMENT THROWS DEBATE ON ADDRESS OPEN

OTTAWA, March 1.—Unless the government summarily dismisses the suggestion that parliament can adjourn until autumn for the taking of the census, and the framing of a redistribution bill, the debate on the address will be prolonged by the Campbell amendment to the King amendment, proposing such a recess. The introduction of this proposal yesterday gave an unexpected turn to the debate and throws it open to all members, even those who spoke already on the King amendment.

Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer will open the day with his first speech of the session and it is expected he will be followed by Hon. J. A. Calder.

If the minister of immigration informs the house that the census cannot possibly be concluded in time for a fall session of parliament the Campbell amendment may be put to a vote at once, in which case it would be almost certainly defeated, no definite support for it having taken shape in the house. Only three members have shown an inclination so far to support it.

It will prolong the debate in any case and it makes the prospect of a vote this week very remote.—Calgary Herald.

POISONS SELF AND HER CHILD

Following a desperate attempt to poison both herself and her little six-year old girl, a woman who had been brought to the city police headquarters to be examined as to her sanity, lies in the Galt Hospital hovering near death. The little girl, victim of her mother's insane attempt is also in the hospital. It is considered likely that both mother and child will recover but it will be at least a fortnight before they can be dismissed from the hospital.

The poisoning attempt was made after the mother had escaped with the little girl from the police station. Once out of sight of the city hall, and while still on the street, she administered bichloride of mercury tablets to the child and then to herself. Fortunately her escape was noticed very shortly after it occurred and Const. Afford and Probation Officer Lamb were sent to find her and bring her back. It was before she was found by the police officers that the poison attempt was made, but the police learned of the attempt immediately after recapturing the woman, and medical aid was summoned without delay. It was so this promptness that both woman and child owe their lives.

LATER

Sarah Ann Ryding's little girl is dead. The six-year-old girl who was poisoned by her deranged mother succumbed to the bichloride of mercury tablets administered Friday morning and her mother now faces a charge of murder, should she be proved sane.

The little girl died Saturday night at this afternoon at two o'clock. Coroner Humphries will hold a inquest. It is firmly believed by the police officials that the mother will be proved insane and in that event no murder charge can be laid against her.—Lethbridge Herald.

When a woman is continually giving hubby a piece of her mind, she can't wonder at his being smarter than she is.

Money talks all right, but the only trouble is that we don't see it often enough to strike up a speaking acquaintance.

THE BABY

I use' to be the baby
Fore the other baby came,
I didn't know that maybe
I'd have to change my name;
But now I'm only "Brother,"
He's "Mother's precious pet!"
(I guess she's stayed my mother,
But I haven't ast her yet).

I thought, though he was tiny
And he looked so very queer,
He'd get over being whiny,
When he found that I was here.
I thought before we knew it
We'd be chummy as could be;
But I ain't a-goin to do it,
'Cause he isn't nice to me.

I mustn't even hold him
Less he drops onto the floor
An' it doesn't do to scold him;
It just starts him in to roar.
I am goin' on to seven,
And I go to bed alone;
But I wisht he'd stayed in heaven
Till he'd got a little grown.

P'raps some day there'll come another,
It would be a funny joke;
Then he'd have to be the brother
An' he'd be told his "nose was broke."
It would start him yellin' maybe,
But I'd tell him just the same,
That he couldn't be the baby
When the other baby came!

SIR MAX FIGHTS FOR REMOVAL OF CATTLE EMBARGO

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(Can. Press).—Interest in the agitation anent the embargo imposed by the British government on Canadian live cattle has been stimulated by the controversy which has broken out between Lord Beaverbrook, the Canadian-born peer and Sir Arthur Boscawen, the newly appointed minister of agriculture, who is waging a warm bye-election in Dudley.

Lord Beaverbrook has a letter a column long in the London Daily Express this morning in which he takes decided exception to what he described as "the foul attack" made upon him by the new minister in a speech in Dudley.

The letter quotes the new minister as saying that "Lord Beaverbrook and his friends will profit if the importation of Canadian cattle into Britain is permitted."

Lord Beaverbrook's answer to this is that he has no interest in cattle raising in any country in the world except on his farm at Leatherhead, England, and that his interest in the subject to secure the removal of the cattle embargo, is dictated by the desire to lower the price of food to British consumers.—Lethbridge Herald.

Piles Cured Permanently Without Drugs

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause

Mr. A. N. Steele, Cupar, Sask., writes: "I had been troubled with my Stomach, Piles and Constipation for years until I had become very thin and looked 20 years older. A leading Doctor in Regina told me that the main canal was badly ulcerated. I gradually became worse, until one day, when purchasing a threshing outfit from Mr. Russell of Regina, Mr. Russell noticed my condition and said: 'I can cure you. Get a J.B.L. Cascade.' Well, I did so, and the first night I used it I slept all night for the first time in weeks, and in a short time felt quite myself again. It also cured my piles, which had troubled me for years."

If you are troubled with constipation, don't drug yourself. Internal bathing with the J.B.L. Cascade is the only permanent way. This wonderful appliance is the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, New York. It is pleasant and easy to use, and will serve the whole family. It should be in every home. See the J. B. L. Cascade at A. D. Ferguson's, Drug-gist, Macleod, Alta., where it will be shown and explained to you. Ask for 32-page booklet all about internal bathing. It is free, or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College Street, Toronto, Ont.

B. C. FARMERS TALK POLITICAL ACTION

VANCOUVER, Feb. 25.—Canadian Press)—Political action came up for consideration today at the second day's deliberations of the United Farmers of British Columbia, in convention here. The resolutions committee submitted a resolution covering motions from various local branches that "in the opinion of this convention it is not desirable that the association as a body take direct political action." This decision, however, would interfere in no way with the liberty of any member, local, district or division promoting direct political action in the interest of any farmer candidate.

Should this resolution be disapproved, another will be introduced from Wyndell local providing that the organization take political action in provincial elections, the chairman of the committee announced.

A resolution urging the provincial government to arrange cheaper stumping powder for bona fide farmers was passed.—Lethbridge Herald.

One Man Knows

We had a letter from a man who operates a small mine up the coast. He says he is glad to know why Pacific Milk is better value than any he has tried.

According to his statement, it is only reasonable that milk put up in British Columbia should be better than eastern milk because our cows are not subject to such severe weather conditions. "Besides we all know B. C. is one of the best dairying countries in the world." There is nothing to add to this statement, is there?

ATTORNEY GENERAL HAS PROPOSED A NEW JURY ACT

EDMONTON, Feb. 25.—Women are entitled to serve as jurors in Alberta under the new jury act prepared by Hon. J. R. Boyle, attorney-general, copies of which have just been distributed to members of the house. It is stipulated that no woman can be compelled to serve unless prior to the summons she signs a document stating her willingness to do so. Members of the legislature, salaried officials and employees of provincial, municipal and federal governments are exempted from service; also the following are exempted from obligatory jury service:

Officers of a court of justice, federal, provincial and municipal police, salaried firemen, teachers, professors or employees of universities, colleges, schools, all the clergy, physicians, druggists, lawyers, students-at-law, editors, reporters, printers, ferrymen, mail carriers, postmasters, railway, telephone and telegraph employees, millers and employees of mills and officers of the army on full pay.

Selecting a Jury

One of the main provisions of the act is that the sheriff of each judicial district shall prior to the 1st of November of each year compile a separate list from voters lists and assessment rolls, or otherwise, of names to be submitted to each sitting of the court in his district during the following year, these lists to contain not less than 500 names of persons liable to service as jurors.

The selection of regular juries shall be by drawing, at a time and place directed by a judge, the sheriff making the draws from some receptacles in which names of qualified jurors have been placed in sealed envelopes. Each jury shall include six persons, any five of whom may return a verdict in civil actions, but in criminal proceedings the verdict must be unanimous.—Calgary Herald.

SALVATION ARMY NOTES

The evening service was held in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

We wonder why people are afraid of holiness preaching. We stop and think and find the answer in Romans 8:7, "Because the carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God." The fight is on. We are here to fight the devil and all his monks in the name of the Lord and in the strength of God.

Robbers! Stop! Think!—Will a man rob God?—The scripture reading was taken from Malachi 3rd chapter, and Lieut. Battersby preached from the 8th verse of the same chapter. The answer to the question asked above is found in the same verse. Robbing God by failing to help to support His servants—robbing Him by withholding your affections and services!

Whatever you sow, you also reap. Neglect to set up the family altar in the home—neglect to read God's Holy Word to, and with the children in the home—neglect to keep holy the Sabbath Day and obey God's commands, and what is the result?

Look at the condition in the world today. Visit homes in even this town and notice the lack of respect to parents and the general behaviour. May God help the parents to remember that His Holy Word cannot be changed; and we learn that He shall "visit the sins of the fathers (parents) upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation."

Young men—boys—What are you doing for the future? Someone may read these notes who was under the influence of liquor on the streets last Saturday evening. I want to tell you of One who loves you and that there is deliverance for you if you come to Jesus—the One who is mighty to save and strong to deliver, and then you will find "the burden of your sins roll away." The desire for sinful things will be all taken away when you believe in the Lord Jesus Christ.

The fact of being a church member will never take you to heaven! I know some who take the Holy Communion yet never open their bibles at home or get down on their knees and pray and are led to believe they are all right. May God help those who are (mis) leading them and may they be truly "born again."

Come to the services next Sunday in the Salvation Army Hall—Morning afternoon and evening. Band in attendance. All welcome.

THE HOME CIRCLE

Spirit's House

From naked stones of agony I will build a house for me; As a mason all alone I will raise it, stone by stone And every stone where I have bled Will show a sign of dusky red. I have not gone the way in vain, For I have good of all my pain; My spirit's quiet house will be Built of naked stones I trod On roads where I lost sight of God. Sara Teasdale.

Friendship is probably the basis of a great deal of the happiness we find in this world. In a little book called "Adventures in Friendship" David Grayson, in defining friendship, says, in part:

Friendship, it seems to me, is like happiness. She flies pursuit, she is shy, and wild, and timid, and will be the best wooed by indirection. Quite unexpectedly, sometimes, as we pass in the open road, she puts her hand into our life—a child. Friendship is neither a formality nor a mode: it is rather a life.

It is not the substance of what we say to one another that makes us friends, nor yet the manner of saying it, nor is it what you do or I do, nor is it what I give you or you give me, nor is it because we chance to belong to the same church, a society or party that makes us friendly. Nor is it because we entertain the same views nor respond to the same emotions. All these things may serve to bring us nearer together, but no one of them can of itself kindle the divine fire of friendship. A friend is one with whom we are fond of being when no business is afoot nor any entertainment contemplated. A man may well be silent with a friend. "I do not need to ask the wounded person how he feels," says the poet. "I myself became the wounded person."

It is not short of miraculous how, with cultivation, one's capacity for friendship increases. Once I myself had scarcely room in my heart for a single friend, who am now so wealthy in friendships. It is phenomenon worthy of consideration by all hardened disbelievers in that which is miraculous upon this earth that when a man's heart really opens to a friend he finds there room for two. And when he takes in the second, behold the skies lift and the earth grows wider, and he finds there room for two more.

In a curious passage (which I understand no longer darkly) old mystical Swedenborg tell of his wonderment that the world of spirits (which he says he visited so familiarly) should not soon become too small for all the swelling hosts of its ethereal inhabitants, and was confronted with the discovery that the more angels there were, the more heaven to hold them. So let it be with our friendship!

We see in this world chiefly what we look for. A farmer going along examines the farms, an architect the buildings, a merchant the condition of the markets, a minister the churches. He who is constantly looking for troubles will find them stretching off into gloomy wilderness. He who is watching for blessings will find them hither and thither extending in harvest of luxuriance.

"Birth, marriage and death are three solemn mysteries given us to study, and the second of these is the key which solves the problem of the other two, since well-born children and true wedded love will help us to bless and save this world, and send us rejoicing to receive our reward in the next."

POPULAR NOVEL ADAPTED FOR GOLDWYN STAR

J. G. Holland's "Seven Oaks" Latest Goldwyn Starring Vehicle for Will Rogers Retitled "Jes' Call Me Jim." At the Empress Fri. and Sat.

One of the strongest human interest and dramatic pictures he has yet had is Will Rogers' new Goldwyn picture, "Jes' Call Me Jim," adapted from the popular novel by J. G. Holland. It is filled with pathos and humor. There are tense, dramatic moments and it is a vehicle just suited to Rogers' personality and ability.

As Jim Fenton, a happy-go-lucky hunter and trapper, he suddenly finds himself confronted with a grim tragedy when his pal, Paul Benedict, played by Raymond Hatton, goes insane and is put in a miserable poor house in Seven Oaks. Jim lives "up river" and it is not until he makes a visit to town to see a pretty milliner, Miss Butterworth, played by Irene Rich, that he learns of the sad fate which has befallen Paul. Miss Butterworth is taking care of Paul's little boy Harry, played by Jimmy Rogers. She tells Jim how she went to Mr. Belcher, played by Lionel Belmore, the most influential man in Seven Oaks, asking him to put a new superintendent in the poor house where poor benedict is living in filth and rags.

Belcher, however, is in the power of Buffum, the superintendent, because he and another man, Sam Yates, played by Sydney De Grey, a lawyer, know that Belcher forged Benedict's signature to a document giving up all rights to his invention, on which Belcher has grown rich and as a result of which Benedict has gone insane.

"Up the River"

Jim promises Miss Butterworth that he will rescue Paul and he jumps to the conclusion that the milliner is in love with Paul, and although he cares for her himself, he resolves to help her get the man she loves. Jim visits the poor house at night and abducts Paul to his lodge "up the river." Buffum tells Belcher that Paul is dead and the latter is satisfied, thinking the superintendent has killed him.

Paul recovers his health and sanity and Jim plans a great coup. He visits Belcher and tells him he wants the reward for the discovery of Paul—he has found his dead body "up the river"—and offers to take Belcher there to see the grave as proof. Belcher accompanies him, sees the grave, is satisfied, makes out a check for the reward, secretly thankful that his forgery is not to be discovered, and glad to get off with so small an amount.

The Confession

A violent storm comes up and Jim and Belcher take refuge for the night in the cabin of Mike Conlin, played by Nick Cogley. They tell Belcher weird yarns to arouse his fears and then show him to his bed room. Belcher listens uneasily. Jim slips the loaded revolver from Belcher's overcoat pocket and extracts the bullets, leaving only the blank cartridges. Belcher lies awake, fearfully glancing at the door. Suddenly it bursts open and Paul appears. The frightened man can scarcely speak, but as the supposed phantom points a finger at him, he sobs out, "Yes, yes, I robbed you. For God's sake, go away!" He seizes the revolver and fires six shots directly at the figure. The shots have no effect. Belcher is wild. He screams for help and Jim and Mike, who have heard his confession, burst into the room.

The Trial

Belcher is sued for fraud. They produce Paul Benedict at the trial and Belcher receives a long sentence. Jim finds his dream realized when the pretty milliner consents to become Mrs. Jim, and he almost spoils the ceremony when the minister starts to say, "Benedict, James Fenton—" by interrupting with—"Jes' call me Jim."

JURY DECIDES SPRACKLIN IS "NOT GUILTY"

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 24.—After deliberating for exactly 55 minutes at the conclusion of two days and a half of a trial that made Canadian legal history, the jury at the Sand-wich assizes brought in a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, pastor of Sandwich Methodist church, accused of "unlawfully slaying and killing one Beverly Trumble."

After being addressed by the counsel in the case and charge by Chief Justice Sir William Mulock, presiding judge, the jury left the court room at 2:20. Exactly at 3:15 they returned to the court and made public the verdict that made the accused minister a free man.

The verdict was not in any way a surprise, for the general opinion of the public has been, since the opening of the case, that Spracklin would be acquitted, but nevertheless the atmosphere was tense while the crowds that thronged the court were waiting for the return of the "twelve good men and true" who held the fate of the "fighting parson" in their hands.—Calgary Herald.

When we look at some people and cogitate upon the statement that man is the noblest work of God, we can't help feeling that the Creator was not as particular as he expects us to be.

TRAINS 540 AND 541 WILL CONTINUE IN MEANTIME

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—H. M. Shaw, member for Macleod, Alberta, has wired to F. W. West of Claresholm, Alta., that the railway commission refuses to grant the C.P.R. permission to discontinue trains 540 and 541. Calgary-Macleod branch. He states that the railway commission has granted the railway company permission to lay its case before it at the Calgary sitting in April.

GERMANY MUST ACCEPT OR TROOPS WILL MOVE IN

LONDON, March 2.—Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister, consented today to the employment of armed force against Germany, in the event of her non-compliance with reparations demands, to the extent of the occupation of Mannheim, by British, French and Belgian troops, and also of the Ruhr ports on the Rhine where coal is handled.

The British premier had heretofore declared himself unwilling to use such military measures.

The French long range guns have already been advanced to a point where they will command the city of Essen, the home of the Krupp plant.

LONDON, March 3.—Germany was today given until Monday noon to accept the fundamental conditions laid down by the supreme allied council at Paris. The German delegates were informed by the allied representatives today that if Germany does not accept those terms the allies will take immediate steps.

The first will be occupation by allied troops of the cities of Dusseldorf and Duisburg, and the Ruhr port (at the mouth of the Elbe, 12 miles from Essen).

Second, each allied country will place such a tax on German merchandise as it may deem proper.

Third, a customs boundary along the Rhine, under allied control will be established.

Only One Modification

The German delegation was informed that the only modification of the Paris reparations decisions permitted to Germany would be as regards conditions of payment, such as a reduction of the period of annuities from 42 years to thirty years.

H. M. SHAW DECLARES FOR A GRAIN PROBE

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—Debate on the address in the house today took a sudden turn. For two weeks discussion has poured around the opposition amendments declaring that the government is usurping power and calling for a general election. This afternoon J. A. Campbell of Nelson, Man., presented a sub-amendment to the amendment. Mr. Campbell recently crossed the floor from the government benches to "No Man's Land" and it was from No Man's Land that Mr. Campbell addressed the house.

In his sub-amendment Mr. Campbell takes the ground that there should be re-distribution before a general election, but an election as soon as possible after redistribution. He would have parliament dispose of necessary business now, then adjourn. When census returns are ascertained parliament will resume.

A re-distribution bill would be brought down and after that dissolution. Thus, under Mr. Campbell's sub-amendment this would be the last session of the present parliament, but it would be a session continued where census returns are available in the fall. Mr. Campbell remarked that his crossing the floor had no great significance. "It is possible," he observed.

"that I shall not differ from the government in the future as much as I have in the past and shall support them on many questions on which I believe them to be right."

Macleod Member for Probe

The day was largely one of western speakers. Again and again there were pleas from western supporters of the government for an investigation into the grain trade. H. M. Shaw, Macleod, Alberta, thought that unrest among western farmers was mainly due to present methods in handling grain.

"The people of the east, said W. J. Blair of Battle River, Alberta, "do not understand to what an extent western farmers are at the mercy of grain dealers."

"Western farmers," urged I. E. Argue, Swift Current, "are not satisfied. They want a commission to investigate not only the terminal elevators but elevators all up and down the line."

From the opposition, J. H. Sinclair-Guysboro, termed this the "cabinet of the perpetual shuffle." He compared Hon. J. A. Calder with "Mr. Facing-both-ways of Pilgrims Progress" and reminded Mr. Calder amid much laughter, that Mr. Facing-both-ways failed to reach the celestial city.

BREAD FROM OLD POMPEII

Pompeii and Herculaneum are usually spoken of together. They were neighboring towns in the foothills of Vesuvius and were together destroyed by the great eruptions of 79 A.D.

Pompeii was a summer resort, where wealthy Romans maintained beautiful villas. Herculaneum was more of a business town. We know very little about Herculaneum but today we may walk about the streets of Pompeii and get a pretty fair notion of what the place was like.

Pompeii was overwhelmed by showers of volcanic ashes—hot, fiery stuff that drove the people out of the city. There was plenty of warning and not very many lives seem to have been lost. Crowds were taken off the beach in ships. By day there was darkness as of night, illumined only by the glare of the volcano, and the panic must have been frightful.

But the ashes did not wholly bury the town. They fell deep enough only to reach the second stories of the houses, or not much more than that. Pompeii was destroyed but in recent years the task of digging it out and uncovering most of it has not been too difficult or arduous to be worth while from an antiquarian viewpoint.

Herculaneum, on the other hand, was buried beneath a flood of lava from the burning mountain. It is today entombed in solid rock, and to dis-

THE LITTLE RIVER

The little river winds and turns
The little river with its burns
All tumbling in together
Along the way
Where fishes play
No matter what the weather
When summer time is here.

And further on at last it turns
A great mill wheel above the stream
Where little trout
Play in and out
And water sprites are seen:
The fairy boatmen riding by
On water bottle's wings.

And as they go
They seem to know
The song the river sings.

Sing on. Sing on.
O little river winding there
Past meadows, woodlands, gardens fair

All sparkling in the sun.
And after, when the twilight falls
When the day is done,
Upon your placid quiet face
The stars will shine all glimmering
With heaven's reflected grace.

TERMS OF THE BRITISH-RUSSIAN
PRELIMINARY TRADE AGREEMENT

The terms of the British-Russian Preliminary Trade Agreement which M. Krassin, Soviet representative, has taken to Moscow for consideration has officially been made public. Each party agrees to refrain from hostile action or propaganda outside its borders against the other's institutions. Soviets particularly agree to refrain from any encouragement of Asiatic peoples action against British interests, especially in Asia Minor, Persia, Afghanistan and India. The British subjects of Russia and the Russians of Great Britain will be permitted to return to their homes if they so desire. Each agrees not to impose any form of blockade against the other or any discrimination against the other in the same sense. Nothing is to be done by either party which would be imposed in other foreign countries. The ships in each other's harbors shall receive the treatment usually accorded to Foreign merchant-ships by the commercial nations.

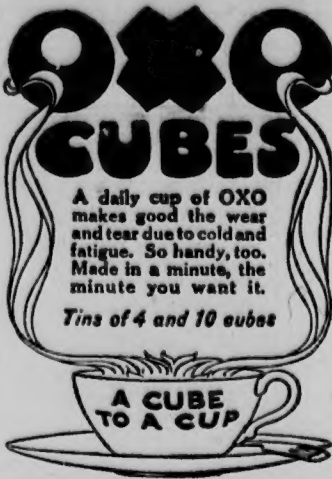

The agreement provides for the clearance of mines from the Baltic and approaches to Russia and the exchange of information regarding mines. It provides admission to both countries of persons appointed to carry out the agreement, with the right to restrict them to specified areas and the exclusion of any who is persona non grata, also free communication and exemption from taxation. The renewal of telegraphic and postal facilities including parcels post will be arranged.

Great Britain agrees to refrain from attaching any good securities or commodities from Russia, as payment for imports or securities for payment, and to refrain as well from legislation against the importation of specie bullion from Russia and from requisitioning such.

The Russian Government recognizes the principle that it is liable to pay compensation to private persons who supplied goods or services to Russia. All claims of either Government or its Nationals against the other in respect to obligations incurred by the existing or former Government shall be equitably dealt with by the treaty.—World Wide.

THE VALUE OF LOVE

What is the value of love? What is it worth? It is the most priceless of all possessions yet—it is given free. There is no return derived except the delight of loving. Love is not love that demands returns. It is given without conditions attached—it is free yet so costly.

Love cannot be given at will; it must be earned; it must be deserved. And yet it is sometimes wasted on those who do not merit it, and sometimes kept from those who would prize it for its true worth.

Love is all powerful. It makes rich the poor; it humbles the proud; it brightens the sad; it makes gentle the haughty. It acts as a leveller. Loves knows no caste or sphere. It cannot be bought for money nor daunted by poverty. It comes alike to the prince and the pauper. Love is as much the King in the little, narrow, squalid alleyway as in the gorgeous, luxuriant, costly palace. It reigns as supreme in the wastes of the desert as in the land of honey and milk. Love means as much to the savage in the wilds of Africa as to the highly civilized peoples of the great commercial nations.

Love is the only thing the profiteers have not been able to boost, for its worth is beyond all wealth, yet it is offered free to those on whom the little God looks with favor. To turn ones back on a treasure as priceless as love for more material things is to turn from the door leading to life-long happiness. Money may go but where true love reigns it reigns forever.

SERVICE

The true idea of service is sometimes lost sight of in our modern world and we often think of service as something degrading rather than ennobling. George Washington frequently in closing his letters used the phrase, "your most obedient servant." No servility was implied or expected by that phrase. It was merely the ideal of service by which every gentleman was expected to rule his life and conduct. The great majority of people now have that mistaken idea of service which makes them afraid to do anything for their fellow being for fear of lowering their dignity. Go back into history and call to mind the men and women who are best beloved by the world. Are they not the ones who have served greatly rather than those who have ruled greatly.

It is doubtful how much of this present business depression comes from a genuine depression of the market and how much from the depression in the business minds back of the market. The fact of the matter is that conditions which prevailed during the war spoiled us. Everyone quit working during the fat years of the war. We didn't have to work; money came in without it. And we haven't come back to work yet. As soon as we all settle down again to the honest-to-goodness eight hours of labor every day, we see a lot of this so-called financial depression vanish in the air.

B. C. Forbes recently said, "The quality most needed by business men a year ago was caution. The quality most needed today is courage." How true this is, yet how scarce we find the needful quality. Last year we were so confident of ourselves that merchants were plunging ahead, buying heavily of everything, never giving thought that the new year might find them with heavy inventories. Yet when nothing can be gained by whining and a great deal might be lost, we find ourselves sitting around talking of the good old days of two years ago and not so much as trying to recover from the results of our own lack of caution. In fact most of us truly believe our condition is due to the government. This is in reality the business man's opportunity. Each and every one should remember that "The great pilot makes his reputation in troubled waters."

OUR OFFICE
BOY'S PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Did it ever occur to you that a man's life is full of crosses and temptations? He comes into the world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contraries is one of the features of this trip.

When he is little, the big girls kiss him; when he is big, the little girls kiss him. If he is poor, he is a bad manager; if he is rich, he is dishonest. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous, everyone wants to do him a favor.

If he is in politics, it is for graft; if he is out of politics, he is no good to the country. If he doesn't give to charity, he is a stingy cuss; if he does, it's for show. If he is actively religious, he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened sinner.

If he gives affection, he is a soft specimen; if he cares for no one, he is cold-blooded. If he dies young, there was a great future for him; if he lives to an old age, he missed his calling.

If you save money, your a grouch, if you spend it, you're a loafer, if you get it, you're a grafter, if you don't get it, you're a bum.

"THE SILVER HORDE" FILMED ON LUMMI ISLAND

Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde," the new Goldwyn-Beach production to be shown at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, contains scenes showing the salmon industry which were filmed in the salmon fishing and packing regions of America's northwest. After investigations the company decided that Lummi Island and the contiguous waters of Puget Sound were ideal for the purpose. The Lummi Bay Packing Company made available for the moving picture concern all the necessary facilities.

showed keen interest in its success. Rex Beach, director Frank Lloyd and twenty members of the cast journeyed to Bellingham, Washington, near which Lummi Island is situated, and the scenes were "shot" in the proper atmosphere.

The people of Bellingham showed lively interest in the making of "The Silver Horde," and the Lummi Island Packing Company even erected tents to accommodate the people who wished to be present during the taking of the salmon industry scenes. This part of the film has an educational value as a background for an absorbing story.

One of the claims of socialism is that it will furnish work for all—which may be a reason why it doesn't become popular with a certain class of people.

WHY ARE THE PRAIRIES TREELESS?

"Why are the prairies treeless?" is discussed in the last issue of the Canad. and Forestry Magazine by Mr. R. K. Campbell, Dominion Director of Forests. Mr. Campbell takes up this most interesting and perplexing problem and comes to the conclusion that fires have been largely responsible for the bare condition of the western plains at the present day. Coupled with unrestricted fire, is the additional factor of dryness of the climate caused by the upthrust Rocky Mountains and the consequent interruption of moisture-laden winds from the Pacific ocean. Proof of the existence of heavy forests in South Western Manitoba and Southern Saskatchewan is shown by the uncovering of extensive beds of lignite coal. Deposits exist also throughout Alberta. The best proof of the fire theory is found in the fact that in many sections of the bare prairie area the line of natural bush is rapidly encroaching so that during the past thirty years the eastern line of forest has extended to about 10 miles from Regina or about 200 miles beyond where it was when the first settlers arrived in that district. The advance of the tree line can be accounted for by the practical abolition of prairie fires which formerly ran unchecked and destroyed every vestige of forest growth that dared show itself above the grass. The history of the prairie province forests clearly proves that treelessness has been due very largely to the human destruction and not to any providential plan that made tree growing impossible.

It's a safe bet that Lot's wife never got fresh again after being turned to salt.

"Daddy's two Helpers"

A COMMON-SENSE VIEW OF THE MOVIE QUESTION

What is the right attitude for the churches to take towards the movies? Should they urge their members to ban them, or to support them?

It is conceded that the pictures have become a part of our community life. It is conceded that their influence is great, and might be used for good if the right class of films were shown. And it is conceded that the worst films are vulgar, silly and distasteful to decent people. We will assume the exhibitor regards his theatre merely as a commercial proposition, though this is often not so.

Let us suppose that the churches do all in their power to oppose the movies. If successful, they will persuade the better element of the community to stay away. Lack of patronage will then compel the exhibitor to buy inferior film, to lower the class of entertainment, and to cater to the tastes of those patrons who support him. The theatre will be virtually handed over to those who would debase it, and the churches will have done their best to injure the community by making the pictures as bad as possible.

Surely it is wiser for the churches to say: "We will make the pictures as good as possible. We will patronize them generously and use all our influence to have the exhibitor procure the very best film obtainable." With increased patronage, the exhibitor will then be both able and willing to assist the good work. It will be his pride to show nothing but the best. And the picture theatre will become all that it ought to be. The churches will also benefit. They will become acquainted with their neighbors, whose existence they too often ignore. And it will be seen that they are trying to do some good in the world. The "salt of the earth" is useless so long as it remains in the salt-cellar. It should be sprinkled liberally where it is most needed to keep the life of the community sweet and wholesome.—Free Press.

WATERTON LAKES PARK

Mr. Bevan, Superintendent of the Park, returned last week from an official visit to Ottawa. He is very much pleased with the programme of development laid out for the Waterton Lakes Park this coming summer.

Owing to the very heavy fall of snow lately experienced, the ice on the Lakes is covered and our ice-boats are earning a much deserved rest. This has also indefinitely postponed the proposed dance.

H. E. Sibbald, Chief Inspector of Dominion Parks, of Banff, spent several days here last week on official business.

Extensive arrangements have been made towards exterminating the timber wolves in this locality, the local stockmen having suffered severe losses through the depredations made by these animals. Several noted and experienced wolf hunters are now engaged in this work including "Charlie, the wolfer" of the Red Deer

District, H. Riviere of Pincher Creek and several others.

The provincial government last week completed the connecting of the telephone line from here to Cardston and we now have direct communication with this point as well as Pincher Creek. The phone is certainly a great convenience and will be doubly so during the tourist season. A. H. Harwood is the local agent.

We understand that there is to be a first class golf course installed here this coming year which will no doubt be greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the golfers of Southern Alberta.

A. H. Harwood and E. Haug motorized to Pincher Creek last week to attend the funeral of the late P. A. Carnell, of Parkview.

Park Warden J. C. Holroyd is at present at Buffalo Park, Wainwright, Alberta, in connection with Park affairs.

Several of the residents took advantage of the beautiful moonlight on Saturday evening last and made a snowshoe tramp up on Sopha Mountain. A very pleasant evening was spent, the party arriving home about midnight.

Plans are out for a new steel bridge to be erected this spring over Paas Creek (Blakiston Brook) to replace the old pole structure. This will be a great improvement and also eliminate the dangerous curves now existing on the approaches to the old bridge.

We would now like to remind anyone contemplating taking a vacation this summer, to visit the Waterton Lakes where everything nature has to offer exists in its most rugged and fascinating form, mountains, lakes, valleys, trees and waterfalls and no more ideal spot can be found for a real holiday. There is fishing, boating, golfing, dancing nightly, in fact everything one can wish for, so for a real enjoyable economical holiday, visit Waterton Lakes Park.

Salvation meeting Sunday night will be conducted in the S. A. Hall at 7.30. You are invited to attend this meeting.

MOUNTED UNIT FOR SOUTH ALBERTA MAY BE FORMED

A movement is on foot to establish a regiment of mounted infantry along the line of the C.P.R. between Macleod and Aldersyde, and west to the British Columbia border. As the 13th O.M.R. regiment was raised in that district it is thought a good many former members would drop into line.

In the reorganization of the Canadian militia the 23rd Alberta Rangers, the unit formerly existing in the districts of Macleod, Claresholm, Cardston and Pincher Creek, was disbanded and does not now exist.

Before the requisite authority to form the new unit can be obtained from Ottawa it is necessary for local authorities to know definitely how many officers are willing to become associated with such a unit. Questionnaires are being sent out to returned officers in the district in order to obtain this information.

The unit, as mounted rifles, would be composed of three squadrons, each commanded by a major and a regimental headquarters, the integral units to be distributed among the principal centres of the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tweed, of Macleod, left on Friday last for Vancouver, B.C.

Newspaper advertising takes a man or woman by the arm and says: "Here is the product. John Smith sells it in your neighborhood. Now go right out and buy it." That's action—"direct action" of a kind that's worth while. The merchant who does not take advantage of it is missing a golden opportunity.

In nominations held February 21st for 3 retiring councillors for Municipal District of Bright (R. B. McNab, John Steinhoff and Fred Wood)—R. B. McNab in Div. 4 was nominated without opposition, going back by acclamation. John Steinhoff in Division 5 retired, Hugh Mackintosh being only nominee went in by acclamation and in Division 6 O. G. Stewart and P. H. Tolley were nominated and at election held on Monday, February 28, Tolley led the poll.

A number of the young people from Pearce and Rathwell were entertained at the beautiful farm home of Mr. C. Brewster on Tuesday evening. There were also a few of the town people present. The evening was spent in music and recitations, and a jolly time in general. The music by the young people from the homes of Mr. Griffin and Mr. White are able to give full satisfaction in the line of music in any evening's entertainment. After a delicious lunch the party broke up shortly after midnight, with a farewell singing of "God be with you till we meet again."

Mrs. T. Peterson entertained a number of children on Friday, February 25th, in honor of her daughter Norma's birthday. The girls and boys were delighted with the tea table, which was beautifully decorated, pink streamers hanging from the chandelier, the birthday cake alight with ten candles in the centre and a kewpie dressed in pink at the head of the table. After tea the guests enjoyed games and music. Among those present were Lillian Andrews, Rachel McLeod, Minnie Perrie, Jessie Little, Grace MacKinnon, Ruth Armour, Margaret Reid, Jack Little, George Johnston, Melvin Smith, Freddie Ades, Harold Young, Hubert Perrie, David Grier, Bailey Adams, and Norma's Grandma, Mrs. I. Peterson, of Calgary.

The services at the Methodist Church on Sunday were of more than usual interest. The grandmothers' meeting on Sunday morning was largely attended. It was Mrs. Maxfield's ninetieth birthday. And on the platform beside the preacher were Mrs. Maxfield, Grandma Rands and Grandma Young, two of them away past the eightieth milestone and the others pushing close to it. During the service representatives of the church board presented each old lady with a bouquet of pink carnations, as a mark of esteem in which our octogenarians are held. The young peoples' choir, led by Mr. Demer, was out in full force and sang an anthem appropriate to the occasion. The pastor spoke on Timothy's "Grandmother Lois." In the evening the church was well filled to hear the pastor's message on "Youth's victory." The choir was out in full strength and received many words of appreciation at the close of the service. After the service a social hour was spent at which Mr. J. Forster was welcomed back to the church after his winter's stay at Kamloops. B. C. Mr. Forster and many others spoke in a high spiritual tone regarding the Christian Life. Mrs. Brewster and Mrs. W. Shield sang a duet and brought to an end a day filled with blessings.

N. R. DEBATE UNDER WAY, EDMONTON

EDMONTON, Alta., March 1.—An amendment to the amendment of the right wing opposition's original motion on the Natural Resources question, reached at a conference of an informal committee of seven members was introduced in the house on Tuesday afternoon by J. G. Turgeon, government, Ribstone. The amendment is seconded by James Weir, non-Partisan, Nanton, and is the result of what the mover termed "a formal discussion" by an informal committee.

Mr. Turgeon stated that when the committee met they were not as optimistic as some of the members that it would be successful in drafting an amendment which would be acceptable to the whole house. Dr. Blow, opposition, South Calgary, and Mr. Turgeon were the only two speakers in the debate on Tuesday afternoon which will be continued by Nelson Spence, opposition, Medicine Hat on Wednesday.

The amendment was offered to replace the amendment brought in by Hon. C. R. Mitchell. It reads as follows: This house further declares that the province is entitled to the immediate transfer of the Natural Resources on a fair and equitable basis having regard to the alienation of lands for federal purposes, and taking into consideration subsidies paid in lieu of lands.

"This House is pleased to note that the Prime Minister of Canada is endeavoring to effect a settlement of this question at the present time," Lethbridge Herald.

HON. GEO. P. SMITH DEFENDS ATTITUDE TO TEACHERS' BODY

(Special to The Herald)

EDMONTON, Alta., March 1.—The provincial Department of Education has no intention of appointing directly an representative of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance on the committee named to revise the curriculum of elementary schools, Hon. George P. Smith, Minister of Education, stated in the legislature Tuesday afternoon. But the department has asked the Alberta Educational Association, the parent organization which includes all the teachers in its membership and thus includes the Teachers' Alliance organization within it, to name two members of the committee. If the Alberta Educational Association desires to select as these two members any members of the executive of the Teachers' Alliance the minister will offer no objection.

This in brief was the reply of Hon. Mr. Smith, to a question put by Alex. Ross, Labor, Centre Calgary. Mr. Smith had previously made a vigorous reply to certain articles and editorials in a Calgary newspaper attacking him for his attitude towards the Teachers' Alliance.

Mr. Smith reiterated statements or this subject which he had made before the convention of 1,400 school trustees in Calgary, the gist of them being that the department had always extended official recognition to the Teachers' Alliance, that representatives of the alliance had been invited to outline their views to a cabinet meeting as long as three years ago and that the organization had been fully recognized. He told of his plans for a board of conciliation to settle disputes with the teachers and read a letter from the secretary of the Teachers' Alliance replying to an invitation to name four members of a committee to meet an equal number of school trustees' representatives presided over by a representative of the Department of Education. The Teachers' Alliance had accepted the proposal and the secretary communicated the names of H. C. Newland, T. E. A. Stanley, C. E. Peasley and J. W. Barnett, all officials of the organization, to serve on this committee.—Lethbridge Herald.

MANITOBA STRIKE LEADERS ARE FREE AFTER YEAR IN JAIL

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—Wm. Ivens, John Queen and George Armstrong will take their seats tonight as members of the Manitoba legislature for Winnipeg. They were released shortly after midnight.

They had been in the provincial jail where they served a year's sentence for seditious conspiracy in connection with the Winnipeg general strike. At the same time, W. A. Pritchard and R. J. Johns were given their liberty. Ivens, Queen and Armstrong were elected to the legislature during their imprisonment. All sentences imposed as the result of strike activities now have expired.

Sympathizers will welcome the released men formally tonight and they are expected to address a mass meeting.—Lethbridge Herald.

MUCH LEGISLATION GIVEN PUSH ALONG

Legislation for Hospital Inspection and Optometrists' Bill Are Forwarded

(Special to The Herald)

EDMONTON, Feb. 28.—Besides the presentation of Premier Meighen's telegrams in the natural resources dispute to the legislature Monday afternoon, considerable other business was transacted. Attorney-General J. R. Boyle gave a detailed explanation of the new jury act. He said the provisions for drawing jurors were aimed to eliminate "plugging" of juries, and that provision was made for women to serve in civil cases only because of the federal provision requiring locking of juries on criminal cases up together while considering cases.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell gave the house an explanation of amendments to the public health act. The chief provisions were for inspection of maternity homes, largely at the demand of the city of Calgary. The province proposed to take over such inspection itself. Both bills were given second reading.

The bill incorporating the Alberta Optometric association was explained by J. G. Turgeon, Edmonton, as in tended to regulate the profession. Dr. T. H. Blow (South Calgary) thought extreme care should be exercised in authorizing persons not medical practitioners to undertake such work. The bill was given second reading. James Weir (Nanton) attacked the bill in incorporating the Premier Insurance company as a "second cousin of my old friend, the fifty-fifty insurance company." The bill passed second reading.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell brought in a change in the new amendments to the public health act whereby the financial responsibility of villages is limited to $100 and of municipal districts and villages to $200 for non-paying patients sent to hospitals.

Strong opposition on behalf of hospitals by opposition members resulted in the section standing over for further discussion.—Lethbridge Herald

REPARATION CONFERENCE IN SESSION

LONDON, March 1.—Germany, through her delegates to the conference with allies here today made reparation offers of approximately thirty billion gold marks, or about $7,500,000,000. It was understood that Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister, had finished his statement on reparations. Premier Lloyd George replied that unless the Germans had something more to offer than appeared in Dr. Simons's statement there was no need of continuing the conference.

Premier Lloyd George told Dr. Simons: "If the written proposals are of the same general character as the explanation of them, it is not worth while for us to read them. You have a complete lack of comprehension of the position of the allies and of your own position. We will discuss among ourselves our reply and give it to you tomorrow at 11 o'clock."

When the Germans left the conference they appeared to be greatly depressed. Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand were smiling as they came from the conference chamber.—Lethbridge Herald.

"THE SILVER HORDE" BY REX BEACH IS NEW GOLDWYN-BEACH PICTURE

Picturization of Famous Novel Made at Goldwyn Studios Supreme in Story Value and Characterization Coming to Empress Theatre.

"The Silver Horde" by Rex Beach is the film version of this popular author's novel of the same name. The picture was made at the Goldwyn studios and was directed by Frank Lloyd. The story in detail follows: The Marsh Canning Company, a New York concern attempts to form a trust of the salmon canning industry in Alaska, and buys up every available salmon trap on the Kalkik River. Big George Bolt (Frederick Stanton), whose property is very valuable, refuses to be absorbed by the trust, and is supported in his fight by Cherry Malotte (Myrtle Stedman), a woman of the North, and Boyd Emerson (Curtis Cooksey). The latter is an Easterner who has gone North in an effort to make enough money to qualify with Wayland (R. D. MacLean), a Wall Street financier, as a suitor for his daughter's hand. Emerson and Big George journey to New York to interest capital in their enterprise, succeed in getting a reckless young spendthrift named Clyde (Carl Gerard) to back them and hasten to Seattle to obtain machinery and boats. Here they meet difficulties inspired by Wayland, the power behind the Marsh Canning Company. They finally attain their purpose and sail for Alaska to begin operations. Their factory erected, Cherry, Emerson and Big George await anxiously the great salmon run, the "silver horde." Marsh (Robert McKim) makes several attempts to destroy their traps; going so far as to send out some of his men to dynamite them.

Wayland and his daughter, Mildred (Betty Blythe), visit Alaska in their yacht; and, although still devoted to Mildred, Emerson cannot help seeing the difference between her and Cherry. Marsh, also ambitious to win the banker's daughter, tells Wayland that Emerson is the father of a half-breed child, and accompanies him and Mildred to Cherry's cottage where the Indian girl lives. Snowbird (Neels Mae) and her brother, Constantine (Hector Sarno) both accuse Marsh as the betrayer. A scene ensues, and Constantine, following Marsh from the house, kills him. The "Silver horde" arrives, and Emerson, Big George and the men work feverishly to get the salmon cleaned and canned. Wayland acknowledges himself beaten, and offers to buy George's traps but fails.

Emerson realizes that he is in love with Cherry and not Mildred. He finds Cherry sobbing her heart out thinking that Emerson will leave with the Wayland party.

How he stops her weeping with three words is the final scene of a masterly Rex Beach photoplay. It will be shown at the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

"Camping Out Along The C. P. R." is the title of a splendidly illustrated story by F. V. Williams in the March issue of "Rod and Gun in Canada." Bonnycastle Dale tells of his experience with snakes and eagles in various parts of Canada in this issue. In addition to these two stories there are six others of equal interest by such well known Nature writers as George R. Belton, Harry M. Moore, Harry W. Laughy and E. T. Martin. The fire arms permit law is dealt with editorially and in a strong appeal to the sportsman by Ira Lieghley entitled "An Undigested and Indigestible Law." This issue contains the final trapping department until the autumn and will be read with interest along with the other departments of guns and fishing which are up to their usual high standard. "Rod and Gun in Canada" is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

A highland laddie there lived o'er the way,

A laddie both nobel and gallant and

W. I. lassie as noble as he,

And yet to her it was all the same.

For dearly she loved him, and said she knew

This laddie, dear laddie was gude and true.

Ere years or even months had fled,

This laddie and lassie were happily wed,

Nae better wifey e'er lived on the lea,

Than bonnie sweet Bessie, the maid o' Dundee;

A happier hame nae mon ever had,

Than this which held twa hearts sae glad,

And ne'er did Bessie have cause to rue

Her weddin' this laddie sae gude and true.

But sorrow came to her hame one day

And her dear laddie was taken away;

Then oh! how sad and lone was she,

Was bonnie sweet Bessie, the maid o' Dundee.

And when in the ground her darling was laid,

Her heart it then brake, and she fervently said,

O God in heaven, let me go, too,

To be wi' my laddie sae gude and true.

NO CHANGE IN POLICY IN IRELAND

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The British government does not intend to alter its present policy for maintaining order in Ireland, Mr. Lloyd George announced in the house of commons today. The chief secretary for Ireland, he said, would be allowed to carry his administration to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Lloyd George made his statement in answer to a question. His declaration came at a moment when many rumors were afloat that Sir Hamar Greenwood was about to resign the Irish chief secretaryship because of a controversy over the alleged lack of discipline among the crown forces in Ireland.—Lethbridge Herald.

There are few things done which couldn't be improved upon. When offering criticism remember that you are more than likely one of such things.

PEARCE NEWS

A very enjoyable evening was spent in the school house on Friday, February 25. A concert was held in aid of the Macleod Hospital. The program without doubt was better than most of the audience could have expected from home talent. We must thank the people from Allenfields for assisting Miss M. Griffin in the musical selections, which were very acceptable. It is rather hard to pick a few items out of the program and make a special speech about them.

As I must say that they were all very good and helped to make the program a success and give the people their money's worth of pleasure. Following is the program:—1—Orchestra, Miss Griffin & Co.; 2—Chairman's Address, Mr. J. G. Tersteeg; 3—song, "Jingle Bells," the young people; 4—dialogue, "Boarding School Accomplishments," Misses Zoeteman and Noel; 5—solo, "Japanese Love Song," Miss Bessie Leuwick; 6—musical selection; 7—recitation, Mr. Geo. Parker; 8—dialogue, "Aunt Betsy's Beaux," 1st act, Misses Noel, Zoeteman, Vanderburgh and Leuwick; 9—solo, "Johnnie Sands," Mr. J. Griffin; 10—"Aunt Betsy's Beaux," 2nd act, Miss Noel, Messrs. L. Griffin and H. Bloor; 11—solo, "Lullaby Land," Miss Bessie Vanderburgh; 12—quartet, "Hark the Distant Hills With Music," Misses Zoeteman and Leuwick and Messrs Leuwick and Griffin; 13—recitation, Mrs. P. Koole; 14—musical selection; 15—duet, "Whispering Hope," Mrs. Macpherson and Miss Bessie Leuwick; 16—dialogue, "Too Greedy by Half," Messrs. Lambrecht, I. Zoeteman and B. Zoeteman; 17—comic song, Mr. F. Le Blond; 18—quartet, "Whip Poor Will," Misses Zoeteman, Leuwick and Noel, Messrs Leuwick and Griffin; 19—Duet, "Rachel and Reuben," Miss B. Leuwick and Mr. J. Griffin; 20—Tableau, Misses Leuwick and Vanderburgh and school children. A splendid supper was served after the program. The money taken in at the door amounted to $39.75 taking out $6.70 for certain expenses, this left the sum of $33.05, which was turned over to the Macleod Hospital. After the concert was all over the young people enjoyed themselves for a couple of hours dancing to the music furnished by Allenfields Orchestra, and took up a collection to pay the musicians.

Stewart Bros. have returned to their farm again from Macleod, to get things in shape for spring work.

Although last year was very poor I am certain that most everybody got their seed, with a few exceptions where they were totally blown out. The feed question is also much better, only one car of hay has been shipped in so far and one car of oats.

We understand that W. Vanderburgh is coming back again to this country from Holland, bringing to this country with him a nephew. Holland seems to be too small for Walt.

Several weeks ago the Pearce Irrigation Development Ass'n got up a petition which was signed by nearly everyone for the purpose of trying to get water into the Big Bend of the Old Man River, just north of Pearce. We have had no favorable reply to the petition from the parties to whom they were sent, stating that it would be looked into at once. I have no doubt that if the water can be raised high enough so as to get it in the bend we will belong to the South Macleod Project.

A WOODPILE THAT COVERS 9,000 MILES

There are forty million newspapers published every week-day in the United States and Canada and they use a pile of pulp-wood four feet high and nine thousand miles long every twelve months, says the current newsletter of the Canadian Forestry Association.

The making of the modern newspaper, however, is but one of a thousand services performed by the forest. Farming is dependent upon wooden houses, wood barns, fence posts and fuel. Fisheries cannot operate without wooden boats, boxes and barrels. Most of the factories of Eastern Canada depend upon wood supplies in their processes to such an extent that a wood scarcity would effectually close down industrial employment.

The forests of Eastern Canada, therefore, may be regarded as a "keystone" bearing up the arch of industrial employment. This is a phase of forest conservation too often neglected. People usually associate the forests with lumbermen and paper mills, whereas the Niagara fruit grower and the farm implement factory share the drastic handicaps that accompany forest depletion. At the present time there is no more insidious enemy to the maintenance and development of industries in Eastern Canada than the annual plague of forest fires. Taking Canada as a whole, ten acres have been stripped of timber by fire to one that has been denuded by the axe.

NATURAL RESOURCES BONE OF CONTENTION BETWEEN GOV'TS

EDMONTON, Alberta., Feb. 23.—Emphatic announcement by Acting Premier Hon. C. R. Mitchell that the provincial government has received definite assurance from the prime minister of Canada that during the present session of the Dominion parliament he will draft a definite proposal for the restoration of their natural resources to the three prairie provinces constituted the most important feature of a lengthy debate in the legislature Wednesday afternoon.

Premier Meighen's Promise
Mr. Mitchell's announcement concerning the promise of Premier Meighen to take up the subject of transfer of the natural resources to the provinces in the federal parliament stated that the "proposal will be submitted to the parliament of Canada and the governments of the prairie provinces for their consideration and ratification." Mr. Mitchell made it in the form of an amendment to Mr. Ewing's motion of the previous day. The amendment states the satisfaction of the house in the constant and continued application of the provincial government to obtain action in the transfer of the natural resources.

The motion and amendment probably will come to a vote Thursday afternoon, the debate being adjourned by Dr. T. H. Blow, opposition, South Calgary.—Lethbridge Herald.

EDMONTON, Feb. 28.—Premier Arthur Meighen of Canada telegraphed Premier Charles Stewart of Alberta last Saturday night that, in regard to making a definite promise that he would propose the transfer of Alberta's natural resources in the federal parliament this session, "no such assurance had been given by me." On Monday, Mr. Meighen again telegraphed Premier Stewart that Mr. Meighen's understanding was that a study and rough accounting of the resources question would be prepared by the federal government for submission to representatives of the three prairie provinces. All parties in the western provinces must then agree to definite suggestions from this accounting basis, otherwise "there would be no possible chance of their passage by parliament."

The Clause in Question
"A definite assurance has been received from the Prime Minister of Canada, that during the present session of the Dominion parliament, he will draft a definite proposal for the restoration of their natural resources to the three prairie provinces of Canada, which proposal will be submitted to the parliament of Canada and the governments of the prairie provinces for their consideration and ratification."

It is this latter statement which Mr. Meighen in his telegram to the provincial government refers to as "unauthorized." The statement was repeated in a milder form in the point resolution of the subject prepared by a mixed committee representing all elements in the legislature.

Premier Stewart in House
Foregoing is the gist of telegrams read in the legislature Monday afternoon by Acting Premier Hon. C. R. Mitchell, in the presence of Premier Charles Stewart, who made his first appearance in the house after his recent illness.

Debate Adjourns
Mr. Mitchell read the telegrams after violent protests had been made by opposition members against continuing the debate until the documents had been presented. After their reading, the debate of the natural resources question was adjourned until Tuesday afternoon by Dr. T. H. Blow, opposition, South Calgary.

The acting premier set forth to the legislature his belief that the amplification of Mr. Meighen's second telegram, apparently qualifying Mr. Meighen's first flat denial of making any promise on the subject, was due to the manner in which the dispute had been brought before Mr. Meighen.

Hon. Mitchell's Explanation
Mr. Mitchell contended that Mr. Meighen's first telegram, repudiating any promise having been given for federal legislation on the subject by the federal parliament this year, was based on a telegram which someone had sent Mr. Meighen conveying the text only of the provincial government's amendment to the motion of Mr. A. F. Ewing, opposition leader in the house.

"Evidently," said Mr. Mitchell, "from this telegram it appeared to him that the government had introduced the main motion. No doubt, Mr. Meighen thought it probable that the government would introduce such a motion when we were waiting for the rough accounting, and the federal government's proposal to be based upon it, for whoever sent this information to Ottawa evidently did not tell the whole story."

Wires Full Details
Mr. Mitchell said that after receiving Premier Meighen's first telegram he, Mr. Mitchell, had then wired on Saturday the premier of Canada the full text of Mr. Ewing's original motion, the government's amendment to that motion, and the proposed motion of the joint committee.

The acting premier at the same time sent another telegram to Mr. Meighen setting forth the provincial government's view on the alleged promise to the premier of Canada as follows:

"Our understanding of conclusion reached at December conference regarding natural resources is that your government would arrange to make rough accounting for use in preparation by you for formal proposal, which proposal it was your intention to submit to the governments of the three prairie provinces during the session of parliament then next ensuing after you had decided this proposal to be of such nature as you considered would be acceptable to both houses of parliament. If said proposal proved acceptable to provinces, you would then be ready to submit a bill in accordance with such proposal to parliament and endeavor to have the same passed."

Premier Meighen's Understanding
In reply to these two telegrams, Mr. Meighen replied in the telegram received Monday morning, which read: "Received this morning your two night letters, twenty-sixth. I thank you for sending me full text resolutions and amendment. Understanding in December was that this government would arrange to have subject especially studied, and such rough accounting as possible made with view to arriving at definite suggestions for submission to representatives various provinces. All parties including representatives western governments, have agreed that any proposals must be accepted as fair by representatives of other provinces as of course, otherwise no possible chance of passage by parliament. This government will indeed be pleased if efforts as so undertaken result in suggestions generally accepted and we are hopeful that at least substantial progress will be made to that end. (Signed) Arthur Meighen."

Ewing Quits Committee
At the moment that the house began its sitting, Mr. Ewing officially withdrew from membership on the mixed committee which drafted the joint resolution. He said that he did so because the committee having been formed on the understanding the natural resources question would be settled at the present session of the Dominion parliament there was no longer need for a campaign of agitation. The correspondence since developed made it appear that the reason for the committee no longer exists.—Lethbridge Herald.

FOIBLES OF THE GREAT

Few are the great who had no queer pastime or freak hobby by way of diversion. Peter the Great had a passion for riding about in a wheelbarrow. He said the motion was soothing to him. On more than one occasion he visited the cities of his realm wheeled about in this homely conveyance by a servant.

James Fenimore Cooper couldn't write unless he had gumdrops to chew. He bought them in large quantities and as he munched them, he thought out the stories for which he is famous.

George Washington took up fox training as a diversion. He was fond of hunting foxes, and when he could catch a young one he took it home with him and patiently taught it tricks, which later would be performed for the benefit of his friends.

William the Conqueror enjoyed a dog fight. From all over the kingdom his friends sent him dogs. He received them by the hundred. From these he would select the largest and fiercest and sit for a whole day watching them fight.

Napoleon spent his idle moments thinking up puzzles. It was a mental relief to him. He would sit for hours trying to devise a puzzle that his friends could not solve.

Daniel Webster had a curious fancy for painting the faces of his cattle. One week his cows would walk around with blue faces, and the next would appear with red ones. This odd notion grew upon him; he found the idea so amusing that whenever he had a spare moment he would go out to the barnyard and change the color with his point brush. His friends' astonishment when they saw his handicraft was his idea of something funny.

President Cleveland, on the other hand, liked to paint the children's toys and the odds and ends of household furniture. He would sit among the youngsters at the White House and spend hours redecorating their toys in the most fanciful and gaudy colors.

Francis Bacon was so fond of fine clothes that he spent his odd time in trying to devise new modes and styles of dress. During his life he made some twelve hundred drawings of freakish costumes. When he could not get anybody to wear them, he hired a number of men to don the grotesque attire and promenade the streets for his pleasure.

TEMPORA MUTANTUR

In days of old,
When Knights were bold,
Ere dry laws were invented,
Man quaffed his beer,
And feeling queer,
He walked away contented.

In modern days
Changed are his ways—
The times are oft lamented—
An ounce of kick
Won't do the trick,
So man is half demented.

'n times to come,
With drinking rum
Effectively prevented,

We Have Decided to Have a GENERAL SALE of Everything in the
DRY GOODS, STAPLES
FANCY GOODS, BOOTS
& SHOES, SLIPPERS
ETC., ETC.

Our aim was to sell out completely. But the money market forbids. This is a genuine BARGAIN SALE—the clerks have the cost mark—so you will in many instances buy goods at less than pre-war prices. At then wholesale cost. The only reservations will be to add 10 cents to the dollar. This will not represent to you more than one per cent for holding these goods and carrying over from year to year. We did at one time think of employing a general sales agency with their highly colored advertising and flowery descriptions, but this would have had to be added to the cost as they charge 10 per cent., then also charging for the cost of an extensive advertising campaign. Also marking up goods then with a red pencil cross it out, and put in a lower figure. By our method you have no need to pay for extra clerk help. You are not hurried. You can take your time as the sale will last two weeks. Commencing from the first of March you will never again see the cheaper goods of the past. High wages, less production, added cost of raw materials, cotton, wool, coal, and lumber prices and labour organizations will make this impossible.

Among the Bargains will be Stetson and Canadian Hats at old prices—

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

From the mistakes of others, a wise man corrects his own.

N. W. Dilatash was a Calgary business visitor this week.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. R. Lantinga, on Sunday, February 27th, a baby daughter.

Arthur Hare, of Edmonton, was a business visitor in Macleod on Wednesday last.

Sergeant-Major Healey, of the R. C. M. Police, Macleod, has been transferred to Regina.

Ernie Charlton returned to Barons on Wednesday of this week after a couple of weeks spent at Macleod with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Charlton.

The G. W. V. A. Ball held on Monday evening was well attended and guests voted it right up to the mark established by the Macleod Veterans in these pleasurable functions.

Miss Marion Stephenson, of Granum, lately the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McLean here, returned to her home in the neighboring town on Tuesday.

Alex McDonald, local agent for John Deere and J. I. Case Farm Machinery, has moved his stock and office to the old Star Pool Room on Second Ave., between the Great West Saddlery and the Co-operative Garage and will there give prompt attention to his many business patrons.

On Friday, February 25th funeral services were held for the late Mrs. Mary Jane McDonald.

Rev. W. A. Lewis conducted the service for the dead at the residence of J. B. Sutherland, and afterwards a large attendance of sorrowing friends accompanied the funeral cortege to the Union Cemetery, where interment took place.

John J. Cameron, former manager of the South Alberta Hay Growers Limited, of Pincher Creek, was pronounced insane by Judge J. A. Jackson in the district court here Friday afternoon. Cameron was facing a charge of knowingly issuing a document with the intent to defraud the shareholders, members and directors of the South Alberta Hay Growers Limited. Cameron was not acquitted of the charge. Should be again become of sound mind the charge may be pressed but this is not considered as likely. Crown Prosecutor McDonald pointed out in court that many other charges could be laid against Cameron and promised this would not be done. Judge Jackson committed Cameron to the custody of his brother-in-law, R. M. Brown, of Pincher Creek, and instructed Brown to inform Cameron that no black cloud is hanging over him.

Mrs. E. J. Camies and daughter Miss Nellie, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murdoch.

C. F. Adams, barrister of Calgary, was in attendance at the district court sittings here this week.

J. H. Jackson, barrister of Pincher Creek, attended the district court sittings in Macleod this week.

James Daley, of Meadow Creek, was a business visitor in Macleod on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

W. J. Strain, of Macleod, who has lately been working on the staff of the McLaren Lumber Co. at Coleman, had the misfortune to slice his big toe with a hand axe one day lately, and is now home till such time as the wound heals.

The two young sons of D. Mackintosh, of Granum, lately appeared in that town in full Scotch regalia plaid, and kilts, etc. A traveling man noticed the youngsters and asked them if they were twins—the tots replied indignantly and promptly—"No, were Scotchmen."

Spring signs galore—golf last Sunday, baseball practice on the court house square most any time and a game of football on Wednesday afternoon. The football game was a match between the R.C.M.P. team and a Macleod pick-up and resulted in favor of the police—score 3-1.

The meeting of the Macleod Hockey Club held in George H. Scougall's office on Wednesday, March 2nd, was largely attended. R. F. Barnes was elected president to replace Sgt. P. F. Healey, who has been recently transferred to Regina, and Cpl. Anderson was elected as vice-president to replace Neville Kirk, who left some time ago for Monitor, Alberta. Geo. H. Scougall was elected as Secretary-Treasurer. An entertainment committee of six composed of W. Young, Cons. Bowen, C. Campbell, Cons. McKinnon, Lloyd Davis and Cons. Byrne, was elected. The meeting discussed ways and means of meeting the deficit of $375.00 which the club finds themselves in arrears. It was decided to continue the dances in the Town Hall to be held on March 9th, 15th, 23rd and 30th and to hold a Ball on the 6th April. The secretary was instructed to take up the matter of raising the G.V.A. dues.

Robbing the G.V.A. man for that date with the secretary of the G. W. V. Ass'n. The entertainment committee are considering having a smoker at a later date. It was unanimously decided that all members of the club should work together to make sufficient funds to cover the club's indebtedness. Those present at the meeting were R. F. Barnes, Cpl. Anderson, Messrs. Chisholm, Genge, Campbell, Cons. McKinnon, Cons. Bowen, H. Levasseur, Z. La France, W. Young, E. Friend, and J. A. Jackson.

DISTRICT COURT CASES

At the district court at Macleod this week a considerable number of cases occupied the attention of Judge Jackson, presiding.

Macleod U.F.A. vs. Koontz was an action to recover $254—the price of a car of hay purchased last winter by the local concern from the defendant. On application of Mr. McDonald, the case was set over to the next court for hearing. J. W. McDonald for defendant and J. L. Fawcett for plaintiff.

Clifton vs. Smith—an action to recover on a promissory note, was settled out of court. D. G. Mackenzie for plaintiff and J. L. Fawcett for defendant.

Macleod U.F.A. vs. Thompson (of Olds) in which action was brought for breach of warranty in connection with the sale to plaintiffs of a car of oats for seed and claimed by the U.F.A. to be unfit for the purpose. Judgment was awarded plaintiffs to extent of $389. J. L. Fawcett for the plaintiffs and C. F. Adams of Calgary for defendants.

Daley vs. Conzet & Co.—Action for recovery of over-payment on two cars of hay. Judgment for the plaintiff for amount of claim. D. G. Mackenzie for plaintiff and M. S. McArthur, of Lethbridge, for defendants.

McLean vs. Rawlinson (Innisfail)—For recovery of price paid for straw last winter, and claimed to be unfit for use as feed. Judgment for plaintiff. D. G. Mackenzie for plaintiff and W. J. Haberlin, Innisfail, for defendant.

Daly vs. Snell—Suit to recover on contract. This case was settled out of court. Jos. Hicks for plaintiff and Taylor & Co., of Calgary, for defendant.

Two minor cases were adjourned to next sitting of district court at Macleod.

POTATO RISsoles

2 medium size potatoes.
1 small onion.
1 hard boiled egg.
2 tablespoonsful of bread crumbs.
Boil potatoes and onion together, then mash both thoroughly. Add to this a well chopped hard boiled egg and two tablespoonsful of bread crumbs (from a stale loaf). When cold form into little cakes and roll in egg and bread crumbs and fry in a little butter until brown. These cakes must not be fried in deep fat, just enough butter to allow them to fry brown.

Very few people are as important as they think they are, nor as unimportant as lots of folks say they are.

THE SHADOW CHILD

I have a little comrade
Who stays with me all day,
He comes at early morning
And watches all my play.
He never answers questions;
'Tho' I shout with all my might,
He never seems to hear me.
And he often hides from sight.
Sometimes he's short and funny,
Or he stretches thin and tall;
He lies upon the carpet,
Or he runs right up the wall.
We often race together,
But he always wins from me,
I have to run around things,
While he slips through, you see.
I asked mother this morning
If 'twas proper or quite right
Without an explanation
He should go away each night.
She told me all about it,
And from what she says it seems,
He plays with other children
While I'm in the land of dreams.

EIGHTY PER CENT OF CANADA'S AREA FIT ONLY FOR TIMBER PRODUCTION

Excluding the worthless tundras of the far north, eight acres out of ten of Canada's habitable area are designed as permanent forest growing land. Canada's total area of over three million square miles is so enormous, however, as to provide abundance of fertile farm land for millions of new population. There is a widely prevalent belief, inherited from our Canadian great-grandfathers who faced totally different conditions, that the destruction of forest areas almost invariably means that farms will follow. This proved true a century ago when the fine agricultural soils of Southern Ontario and Quebec were tree covered. Canada has now reached the stage when only a trifling percentage of the land area now covered with timber growth is of any agricultural value. The whole aim of the forest conservation movement, now gaining such headway, is to retain the non-agricultural sections of the country as a timber producing estate. To do this effectively the annual plague of forest fires must be fought and overcome for it is not generally known that forest fires have destroyed ten times as much land as has been lost to the axe of the lumberman.

DAIRY CATTLE RECORDS

Report No. 12 of the Record of Performance of Pure Bred Dairy Cattle, issued by the Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, supplies the regulations of every breed, the names of the cows and their breeding, name of owner the production, and number of days milked of all animals entitled to record from April 1, 1919, to March 31, 1920. Apropos of the question as to the number of times a heavy yielder should be milked each day, it is worthy of note that the majority of the Ayrshires, Holsteins and Jerseys were milked three times daily for a number of days, and some of the Holsteins four times. Another noteworthy feature is the representation in the lists of the Experimental Farms and stations, and agricultural colleges and schools. In all 231 names of owners appear in the index; of these 142 are from Ontario, 32 from Quebec, 38 from British Columbia, 3 from New Brunswick, 4 from Nova Scotia, 7 from Prince Edward Island, 4 from Saskatchewan, 5 from Alberta and 1 from Manitoba.

SCORE PRACTICE ELEVATORS USE HANDLING WHEAT

(By T. W. FRASER)

OTTAWA, March 1. — The attack in force upon the western grain trade, launched in the senate last week by Senator Rufus Pope, is being continued in the house and bears every evidence of a concerted plan of campaign to force the government into taking action. The attack was launched in the house last week by R. C. Henders, a former president of the Grain Growers' Association, who claimed that it was time the government investigated the questions of overages, screenings, and scalping from which the elevators were making enormous profits at the expense of the farmers.

He was followed yesterday by Messrs. Argue, Blair, Halliday, Shaw and Myers, all western supporters of the government. The burden of their complaint was all to the same effect. Mr. Blair, for example, claimed that the country elevator cheated the farmer in the matter of weights; he gave instances of discrepancies of from 10 to 15 per cent between different companies in his own district.

Grading Differences
Differences in grading would account for from five to 10 cents a bushel more. The country elevator operator, too, was often at the mercy of the head offices of the company. In the matter of screenings the rule is that when there is less than three per cent dockage the elevator is entitled to take it all, although the producer has to pay freight and handling charges on it. During the war this stuff was sold by the elevators at the rate of $35 a ton.

The arbitrary prices fixed for grain by the grain exchange was another point to which exception was taken. The prices quoted at country points are based on the closing option prices of the day before, which it is claimed operate against open competitive buying. Through the lack of this the spread between cash and street wheat reaches to nearly 50 cents a bushel. As a result of all the evil practices named an investigation into the trade from the time it leaves the farmer's wagon until it reaches the dock at Liverpool, is asked.

Will Appoint Commission
As the result of such complaints it is understood that the government will within the next few days appoint a commission having very wide powers to investigate the grain trade in all its phases, including the grain exchange and even the operation of flour and feed mills. It will be no ticed that not one from the opposition or the Farmers' party has joined in these complaints, although the grain growers number 36,000 farmers among their members who should presumably be interested. The Farmers' party in the house, however, does not hesitate to state privately that it is all a deep-laid plot to discredit their leader, Hon. T. A. Crerar, and break up their organization. They declare they have nothing to fear from any investigation, having done nothing contrary to law or the customs of the trade and they intimate that if it is hoped to have the effect of breaking into the strength of the Farmers' organization it will have the contrary effect.

Manion at Ease
Dr. R. J. Manion, of Fort William, who has been prominently mentioned in recent cabinet slates, was the first speaker of the day. He is a rapid voluminous speaker, who pours out a perfect torrent of words. The burden of his speech was to explain the present position of Liberal Unionists, who have remained with the government being one of that class. As a former member of what was considered the low tariff party, he felt perfectly at ease in his new surroundings because the average rate of duties was nearly three per cent lower at the present time than it had been under the Liberal regime from 1896 to 1911. Mr. Sinclair, of Guysboro, was one of the longest speakers on the opposition side, making a general frontal attack upon the government. He rallied the administration and particularly Mr. Calder, and gave a long list of reforms, which would have to be put in force if they hoped to win his approval, but he despaired of ever seeing them endorsed by this administration.

Mr. Campbell, of The Pas, who has this session crossed over to the cross benches, came forward with an amendment to the amendment, an instrument which the speaker refused to consider last year, establishing the rule there cannot be two amendments to the budget. It is claimed that the present case is different and the impression appears to be that the Campbell amendment, which calls for a redistribution immediately after the census at a special autumn session and an election as soon thereafter as possible, will be allowed, but will receive very little support.—Calgary Herald.
